Why, he was the same rich, pious Muslim, the head of the village, who every evening for years had been sending Maulvi Saheb homebaked bread smeared with ghee and an earthen bowl of dal. He was very regular in his offering. If for some reason the daily offering of the evening meal was delayed, Chaudhry Fateh Dad would carry it himself to Maulvi Abul's house and apologise for the delay, saying: "I am terribly sorry, Maulvi. My wife is unwell. So the maid has cooked the food."
